MADSENS - THE PHOTOGRAPHIC EXPERTS

MADSENS Cameras and Imaging have been in the Photographic industry since 1966, and is still owned by the founder. We have had 43 years of practical and technical experience, and are both willing and able to help you. We employ young, highly skilled staff, and we can readily advise and assist with our darkroom and digital products. The answers to many of your questions will likely be found on our website; www.madsens.com.au for photo and digital products, and www.darkroomshop.com.au for all your darkroom product enquiries. We also offer an extensive range of filters through www.filtershop.com.au On our website, you may also complete our Email Enquires form, and we will endeavour to help you in any way. We supply and deliver Australia wide, so you can simply fax or email your school order to us and we will ship ASAP. Please note that you need to place an official order with an order number. Our 2009/10 Catalogue contains everything that we know you need for teaching photography and imaging. If you require a product that we don't list in our catalogue, please tell us and we will try and source it. Fax us or email us, and we will respond.
